

TNL International is your go-to partner for the specialised safe movement of your bulk liquid cargo.

Bulk Liquid Logistics

The safe international movement of liquid cargo requires a specialised handling and transportation discipline.

The documentation involved with shipping certain liquid commodities can be overwhelming and having someone available to help guide you through the process can save you time, money, and needless stress. TNL International has the knowledge and experience that can help you navigate the complex process of safely moving liquid products through the global supply chain.

Common liquid cargo types such as juice, wine, palm and fish oil, edible oils, milk, water, syrups and non-hazardous chemicals are generally suitable for transportation in Flexitanks. For smaller quantities, drums, pales and IBC's (intermediate bulk container) are ideal.
